4. Key Elements of The Policy

4.1 Principles

All Cornish College’s managers and employees as well as contractors and visitors have a shared responsibility for contributing to the health and safety of all persons. The promotion and maintenance of health and safety issues and the dissemination of OHS related information is primarily the responsibility of management. Management at all levels, in consultation with employees, have the responsibility for developing, implementing and continually reviewing Cornish College’s OHS Program.

4.2 Objectives

This policy provides the framework for:

- the development of safe methods of work
- the achievement of a safe working environment
- the promotion of good health within the work force
- reducing the number and severity of injuries in the workplace
- complying with all relevant Acts, Regulations, Standards and Codes of Practice.

4.3 Strategies

Risk Management:

Cornish College has established a documented OHS Program and a risk management system with procedures for identifying, assessing and controlling workplace hazards. This risk management system has been developed in accordance with the International Risk Management Standard AS/NZ ISO 31000.

Consultation:

An OHS Representative and Return-to-Work Coordinator has been appointed to provide an effective consultative mechanism. Employees are able to provide input into the OHS program. Management will consult with contractors and visitors when planning work to determine the most effective means of ensuring both parties fulfill their OHS responsibilities.

4.4 Occupational Health and Safety Program

Cornish College is committed to the effective implementation of its OHS Program and will ensure that it is appropriately reviewed and updated. The program relates to all aspects of OHS including, but not limited to:

- OHS training and education for all employees – general and hazard specific
- work system and procedure design, workplace design and standard work methods
- changes to work methods and practice
- emergency procedures and drills
- provision of OHS services, equipment and facilities
- workplace inspections and safety plans
- reporting and recording of incidents, accidents, injuries and illnesses
- provision of information to employees, contractors, sub-contractors and visitors.
